

1 Guide to the Procedures for Prosecuting Petitions for Prerogative Writs

2 All will please note that these code sections specify “furnish”, not “serve”.

3 On 04/12/2010 petitioner complied with the first sentence in Public Resources Code Section 4 21167.6(a) by filing it with the petition. On 04/19/2010 petitioner complied with the remainder of 5 Public Resources Code Section 21167.6(a) when the process server from Attorney’s Diversified Services
6 served the 7 papers listed above on the respondent. On 04/15/2010 petitioner complied with Public 7 Resources Code Section 21167.6.5(a) when the process server from ADS served those 7 papers on the 8 real party in interest.

9 On April 28, 2010 counsel for State Water Resources Control Board announced that they would 10 not be complying with the requirements of 21167.6.5(b) making it difficult for petitioner to comply with 11 section 21167.6.5(c), Exhibit A attached. Nevertheless, petitioner crafted his own list, see Exhibit A, 12 and will comply with the requirements of 21167.6.5(c) using that list within the time required even 13 though he may have to re-comply using SWRCB’s list when and if SWRCB changes its mind and 14 furnishes such a list.

Re: Barkley v. SWRCB filed 04/12/2010

Dear Mr. Fuchs,

Interesting phone call yesterday.

I understand from your comments that SWRCB is not going to comply with the requirements of Public Resources Code Section §21167.6.5(b), thus making it difficult for me to comply with §21167.6.5(c), because it is your position that CEQA does not apply. Should you change your mind, attached is a list off the top of my head of some of the relevant agencies.

FYI, Judge Karlton issued an order yesterday in the Angle case, copy at <http://www.mjbarkl.com/316.pdf>, which, among other things, seems to move one step closer to declaring invalid every SWRCB permit or license within the Stony Creek watershed, including of course any permit under Ap. 18115.

Best wishes,

Michael J. Barkley
